CAFFEINATED CYBER GIANT

NEW REALITY

When the world ends...

Will there be any remnant of humanity? Perhaps ancient blog entries stored in isolinear chipsets gathering dust in some underground facility in Utah. If so, I welcome you with a special hand gesture of friendship and goodwill from the early 21st century.

Caffeinated Cyber Giant

Yeah that's fine I just figured it out too.

Speed and maneuvering comes from the electro magnetic disruption field apparently created by superconducting plasma Mercury and spinning it at approximately 250,000 rpm. This disruption field reduces the weight of anything inside by 89%. Caffeinated Cyber Giant for sale 10 oz caffeinated hallucinogenic air for inhaling. That's 283 grams 312 ml worth of product manufactured on November 11th 2014.

Use it around the home, avoid using near sharp objects. Take it with you to those boring lecture halls or for added enjoyment try spraying it into a room of unsuspecting guests.

BURNOUT LIMIT
Everything has a burnout limit. Even four people crammed into a small foul smelling plastic pup tent on a sweltering day in Hawaii eating cheeses and crackers has its limitations on fun.

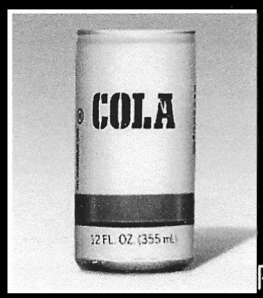

CYBERPUNK

Vehicle // Floor foot-switch activated death ray
Δpartment // Δny reasonably adequate but futuristic hi/lo-tech style
Clothing // Jacket & boots [consider watch]
